MESSAGE TRANSMITTING THE BUDGET.

To the Congress of the United States:

I transmit herewith the Budget of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925. In making this submission it is felt that the present is a peculiarly appropriate time briefly to review the fiscal experience of the country since the beginning of the World War.

The beginning of the war marked also the beginning of a period of unprecedented and unexampled public expenditure not only by our own but by well-nigh all the nations of the world. The great weight of the fiscal burden that our own country has borne since our entrance into the war is suggested by the statement that our part in the great conflict cost the nation roundly forty billions of dollars. While the war was in progress, by dint of the patriotic willingness of the people to pay heavy taxes, it was possible to meet from current revenues about twenty-five per cent of the war costs. This in itself was a remarkable accomplishment—I believe without parallel in any of the other warring countries.

The public debt at the beginning of the war amounted to about a billion dollars. At the close of August, 1919, it reached its highest point, approximately $26,500,000,000. From that point it has since been reduced until it now totals about $22,000,000,000.

The American people have given a truly magnificent demonstration of patience and patriotism during the years in which they have borne this burden. In less than seven years, to put the matter very briefly, we have spent forty billion dollars and we have paid off from current revenues eighteen billion dollars, or nearly half of the amount. Certainly the nation, which has thus patiently persisted in meeting the enormous burden of governmental costs, is entitled at the earliest possible moment to the largest measure of relief from these burdens that can possibly be accorded. I am convinced that the time has now come to extend this relief through a substantial reduction of taxation, and the fiscal program which is crystallized in the Budget estimates which are herewith transmitted to the Congress is based on this purpose.

We are all familiar with the fact that the larger part of the tax burden arises not from the exactions of the Federal Government but from the governmental costs of the States and municipalities. President Harding, in his address on taxation and government costs at Salt Lake City last June, pointed out that for the year 1922 approximately sixty per cent of all taxes collected throughout the nation were for the States, cities, and other local taxing bodies. It is therefore highly desirable that an example of determined and insistent economy be set by the Federal Government for the sake of its influence upon every body which possesses the authority to levy taxes. I am firmly persuaded that if the National Government will reduce its expenditures and its levies under the program which is presented to you herewith, it will have a highly salutary effect in inducing greater economies in all other departments of public taxation. A definite recommendation for tax reduction is made later in this message.

The Budget transmitted herewith is summarized in the following statement:

Budget Summary.

[Exclusive of postal revenues and postal expenditures paid from postal revenues.]

	Estimated, 1925.	Estimated, 1924.	Actual, 1923.
Total receipts	$3,693,762,078	$3,894,677,712	$4,007,135,480
Total expenditures (including reduction of the public debt required by law to be made from ordinary receipts)	3,298,080,444	3,565,038,088	3,697,478,020
Excess of receipts	395,681,634	329,639,624	309,657,460

In the Budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, transmitted to Congress December 4, 1922, the estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1923 were $3,429,862,959, and the estimated expenditures $3,703,801,671, thus forecasting an apparent excess of expenditures over receipts of $273,938,712. President Harding, in referring to this estimated deficiency, said:

> I am hopeful, however, that the condition on which this estimate is predicated will change for the better in the ensuing months of the fiscal year and that the close of the year will show a balanced budget.

This hope was justified. At the close of business June 30, 1923, the actual receipts for the year were $4,007,135,480, and the actual expenditures $3,697,478,020, an excess of receipts over expenditures of $309,657,460. This fortunate transition from an apparent deficit to a large surplus, while greatly aided by an unexpected increase in receipts, was due in no small measure to the efforts of the individual departments and establishments of the Government and to the spirit of cooperation shown by them in carrying out the economy policies of the President.

The estimates made at the time of the presentation of the Budget in December, 1922, indicated that for 1924 the receipts would be $3,361,812,359 and the expenditures $3,180,843,234, making an excess of receipts over expenditures of $180,969,125. The revised estimates recently made indicate that the receipts for the current year will be $3,894,677,712 and the expenditures $3,565,038,088, making an excess of receipts over expenditures of $329,639,624.

For the fiscal year 1925 it is estimated that the total ordinary receipts from all sources, excluding the Postal Service, will be $3,693,762,078. This is $313,373,402 less than the actual receipts for 1923 and $200,915,634 less than the estimated receipts for 1924.

The expenditures during the fiscal year 1923 were $3,697,478,020 compared with $3,795,302,499 for 1922, a reduction of more than $97,000,000. Included in the 1923 expenditures, however, were certain items appearing also among the receipts for the purposes of clearness in accounting. To get an accurate comparison between the expenditures for the two years, it is necessary to deduct the sum of these items from the gross expenditures of 1923, which are reduced to $3,532,269,266.32. This shows a reduction of approximately $263,000,000 below the expenditures for 1922.

It is estimated that the expenditures for 1924 will be $3,565,038,088, which is $132,439,932 less than the expenditures for 1923.

The estimate of expenditures for 1925 is $3,298,080,444, which is $266,957,644 less than the estimated expenditures for 1924. By expenditures for 1925 is meant the amount it is estimated will be withdrawn from the Treasury during the year ending June 30, 1925. This is to be distinguished from the estimate of appropriations for the same year. Withdrawals during the fiscal year will be from funds heretofore appropriated as well as from appropriations recommended in the Budget. Furthermore, a portion of the money to be appropriated for 1925 will not be withdrawn from the Treasury until after the close of that fiscal year.

The foregoing does not include expenditures for the Postal Service and the Post Office Department payable from postal revenues. Such expenditures for the fiscal year 1923 were $570,823,232. A deficiency of $32,526,915, payable from ordinary receipts, is included in the ordinary expenditures hereinbefore mentioned. The estimated expenditures from postal revenues during 1924 are $593,309,673. An estimated deficiency of $24,679,673 is included in the estimated ordinary expenditures for 1924. The estimated expenditures from postal revenues for 1925 are $613,295,184. It is estimated that the postal expenditures for that year will exceed postal revenues by $2,085,184.

This brings us to the estimates of appropriations contained in this Budget. The Executive instructions governing the preparation of these estimates called for a substantial reduction as compared with the appropriations for 1924. This was essential to a continuation of the policy of strict and drastic economy. That is the administration's undebatable policy. It has been adhered to unswervingly in the past and we shall hew to the line in the future.

The estimates of appropriations appearing in this Budget for 1925, exclusive of the estimate for the Post Office Department, amount to $3,018,069,946.06, which is $260,365,022.56 less than the appropriations for 1924.

I give below a comparative statement of the estimates of appropriations for 1925 and the appropriations for 1924.

The estimates of appropriations for the Department of Justice show an increase of something more than $2,000,000 above the estimates contained in the Budget for 1924. Probably to a much greater extent than any other executive department, the Department of Justice involves activities which are not subject to administrative control as regards expenditures. Due to this condition the practice for a great many years has been to present estimates of appropriations for the Department of Justice which were known to be less than the amount which would eventually be required for the service of the fiscal year to which they pertained and to follow these annual estimates with supplemental estimates when the fiscal year was well under way and the needs could be more accurately determined. This practice was known to and sanctioned by Congress. The estimates for the fiscal year 1925 are in an amount which it is believed will cover in full the requirements of the Department of Justice for that fiscal year. This change in practice operates to increase the Budget something more than $2,000,000 over what the total of the Budget estimates would be if the old practice had been continued, but it presents a truer picture of the estimated requirements of this Department which is in accord with the principles of proper budgeting.

The estimate for the Department of Commerce includes $3,500,000 for the decennial Census of Agriculture, required by act of Congress approved March 3, 1919.

For prohibition enforcement the Congress has appropriated for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, an amount which provides an executive unit of 700, directorates for the several States, and a field force of 1,522. A considerably enlarged field force should be provided for prohibition enforcement, and to meet this requirement the estimates of appropriations for the prohibition unit for the fiscal year 1925 are something more than $1,600,000 in excess of appropriations for the current fiscal year. In my annual message I am presenting to Congress the need for a material increase in the personnel and equipment of the United States Coast Guard for the purpose of combating more thoroughly rum-running and unlawful importations. I mention this here for the reason that I will shortly present to Congress a supplemental estimate of appropriations for the Coast Guard of approximately $20,000,000, mainly for additional vessels and boats, for the current fiscal year which, if granted, will be followed by a request for a further appropriation of approximately $6,000,000 for the coming fiscal year.

The estimates of appropriations contained in the Budget include amounts to cover the classification of civilian positions within the District of Columbia as required by the act of Congress approved March 4, 1923. The amounts involved in the classification are also reflected in the estimates of expenditures contained in the Budget. The Budget contains a statement giving a detailed summary and comparison of the Budget estimates of appropriations with the expenditures for 1924 as regards the personnel of the departments and establishments in the District of Columbia.

The gross public debt, which on June 30, 1922, was $22,963,381,708.31, on June 30, 1923, was $22,349,707,365.36, a reduction of $613,674,342.95 during 1923. The total of this reduction was made up first, in the amount of $402,850,491.10, through the cumulative sinking fund and other public debt expenditures payable from certain specific receipts; and second, in the amount of $210,823,851.85, from the surplus of $309,657,460.30 of ordinary receipts over expenditures for the year. The balance of this surplus, $98,833,608.45, was added to the net balance in the general fund of the Treasury, which was thus increased from $272,105,512.63 at the commencement of the year, to $370,939,121.08 at the end of the year.

During the next five years there mature $4,000,000,000 of Treasury notes and about $3,400,000,000 of third Liberty bonds, a total of $7,400,000,000. The ordinary sinking fund will take care of about $1,600,000,000 in the five years, leaving between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000 of Government securities to be refunded.

The debt agreement with the British Government, concluded on June 19, 1923, involves a payment of approximately $160,000,000, principal and interest, each year, and in accordnace with the terms of the agreement, these payments may be made in bonds of the United States issued since April 6, 1917. Such bonds, when so used in payment, are canceled and retired, but this is not likely to affect the earlier maturing debt referred to above, because the bonds tendered in payment by the British Government will probably be those of longer term which are now lower in price. If future adjustments are made with other foreign Governments, the United States debt may be affected, but for some years to come the principal reliance on debt reduction must be the sinking fund, and the specific receipts referred to above.

The fiscal year 1923 was closed with a surplus of more than three hundred million dollars. For 1924 the forecast is that the ordinary receipts will exceed the expenditures chargeable thereto, including our fixed-debt charges, by $329,000,000. The surplus for the next fiscal year, 1925, under present revenue laws, is estimated at $395,000,000. Joint executive and legislative action has demonstrated what united effort can do toward reducing expenditures, and the results certainly justify the view that we can stand a reduction in our ordinary receipts and still achieve a balanced Budget. This, of course, will be possible only if the present pressure and coordinated effort for economy in our public expenditures be continued without relaxation and there be no embarkation upon any extraordinary expenditure program. I have in mind that the taxpayers are the stockholders of the business corporation of the United States, and that if this business is showing a surplus of receipts, the taxpayers should share therein in some material way that will be of immediate benefit.

Having in mind that the Budget and Accounting Act, 1921, contemplates that the Chief Executive, under the fortunate situation in which we now find ourselves, shall make such recommendations as in his opinion the public interests require, I recommend a revision of tax laws along lines which will effect a reduction of income taxes by taxing earned income more lightly than income from business or from investments; by reducing the percentages of the normal tax, and by reducing the surtax rates, with commencement of their application at $10,000 instead of $6,000. I also recommend repeal of the tax on telegrams, telephones, and leased wires, and of the tax on admissions, and revision of the miscellaneous taxes which are a source of inconvenience to taxpayers, and difficult to collect. On the other hand, amendments which would cause some increase of revenue should also be made to existing income tax laws relative to deductions of capital losses; deductions from gross income for interest paid and nonbusiness losses sustained, where income from tax-exempt securities is involved; and the manner of taxing community incomes. These changes would reduce taxes by more than $300,000,000, which is safely within the probable surplus.

It would not take much, however, to exhaust this margin, and any program of new expenditure on a large scale would make tax reduction impossible for years to come.

I know of nothing which will give the people of this nation greater assurance that we are unalterably committed to a campaign of economy in public expenditure than a reduction of our present taxation. It will take from the realm of debate plans which contemplate extravagant expenditures or expansions of the business of Government beyond those necessary to keep pace with a growing nation and fix as the measure of our requirements an amount which will represent what is actually necessary to carry on efficiently the proper business and functions of Government and meet our fixed debt charges payable out of current revenue. It would certainly tend to align the whole people in support of economical administration of Government, and I frankly state that such an alignment is becoming every day more and more necessary because of the influence which it will have upon the States and the other lesser subdivisions of our body politic.

In stating that a reduction in taxation carries with it an obligation not to embark upon an extraordinary expenditure program, I am not unmindful of the demand for adjusted compensation for soldiers of the World War, which would include among its beneficiaries the able-bodied of our veterans as well as the disabled. I question if there is any sound reason for such a measure. The country is prosperous, and remunerative employment is available for the able-bodied veterans as well as for other citizens. For the disabled veterans of the war and the dependents of those who fell the country can not do too much. It has already spent nearly two billions of dollars and is now spending nearly half a billion dollars yearly in their behalf. That obligation it must and will continue to fulfill in fullest measure, and it is one of the most important of the duties and privileges of the Chief Executive to minister to the wants and needs of these wards and creditors of the nation. But the fit and able-bodied veterans are offered the opportunities open to every other citizen. The Government has no money to distribute to any class of its citizens that it does not take from the pockets of the people and the payment of a bonus to millions of our former soldiers could only be accomplished at a cost to the whole community, including the veterans themselves, far outweighing the benefits intended to be conferred. If I felt that a soldiers' bonus represented a great need and a proper obligation which should be fulfilled by this nation, I certainly would not make a recommendation which would be adverse thereto.

We have now reached a point in our financial program where we can lighten the tax burden of the people, which is an added reason for taking a firm stand against any and all programs of spending that would tend to absorb the expected margin between receipts and expenditures.

I also recommend the enactment of legislation which will authorize a reasonable progressive building program to meet the needs of the executive departments and establishments of the Government in the District of Columbia. All of the permanent and semipermanent buildings are more or less crowded, with an overflow which of necessity is housed in temporary buildings erected during the period of the late emergency. A program authorizing an expenditure of not exceeding $5,000,000 annually for a period of years would operate to gradually relieve the existing unfortunate situation and in the course of time give adequate accommodations to the departments and establishments.

THE CHART PRESENTATION.

The chart presentation of the estimates of receipts, expenditures, and appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, given opposite page A3, sets forth graphically the source of income and how the average dollar of the estimated expenditures and appropriations is apportioned to organization units and functions in the Budget for the fiscal year 1925.

Chart 1 exhibits the estimates of appropriations by organization units, exclusive of the Post Office Department, payable from postal revenues, and gives the allocation of the average dollar to the several departments and establishments for which the appropriations are recommended. It will be seen that of the average dollar to be appropriated 0.46 cent is for the legislative establishment; 13.41 cents for independent offices, of which 11.56 cents is for the Veterans' Bureau; that 2.30 cents is for the Department of Agriculture; 9.91 cents for the Department of the Interior; 9.23 cents for the Navy Department; 11.15 cents for the War Department; 50.41 cents for the Treasury Department, of which 29.49 cents is for interest on the public debt and 15.98 cents for reduction in principal of the public debt payable from ordinary receipts; and only 3.13 cents for the Departments of Commerce, Justice, Labor, and State, the District of Columbia, and the Executive Office.

Chart 2 gives the estimates of appropriations by governmental functions and exhibits the purpose for which the average dollar is to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1925. It shows that of each dollar recommended for appropriation 3.65 cents goes for general functions; 37.32 cents for military functions, of which 17.37 cents is for national defense and 19.95 cents for military pensions, retirement pay, annuities, World War allowances, and life-insurance claims. It also shows that of the average dollar to be appropriated 11.67 cents is for civil functions, of which 1.91 cents is for promotion, regulation, and operation of marine transportation and 3.15 cents for public works. Of the total, 47.36 cents of each dollar included in the estimates is for nonfunctional purposes. This includes 1.12 cents for refunds, drawbacks, and like appropriations, 15.98 cents for public-debt retirements, and 29.49 cents for interest on the public debt.

Chart 3 exhibits the estimated receipts of the Government by sources of revenue, exclusive of postal revenues for the fiscal year 1925. DESCRIPTION OF GOVERNMENTAL FUNCTIONS.

INTRODUCTION.

A classification by governmental functions has for its purpose to set forth the general end or purposes accomplished by the expenditures made by the several organization units of the Government. Each function of government represents a service rendered directly to the people or else a service performed as a means of promoting, protecting, regulating, or administering services directly rendered.

The classification set forth on Statements Nos. 8 and 9 presents, first, the general functions of the Government. These correspond closely to the main organs of government established by the Constitution. The general functions have been divided into the following:

1. Legislative,
2. Judicial,
3. Executive, and
4. General administration.

The activities and duties of each of these deal with matters in all other functional fields.

Of the specific functions, it is important in the case of the National Government to segregate clearly the expenditures for military and distinctly war purposes from expenditures for civil services. Therefore a segregation is made of the specific functions into the following classes:

1. Military functions.
2. Civil functions.
3. Nonfunctional expenditures.

The military functions represent those activities conducted for military and war purposes and include those activities of special war agencies and expenditures made by civil services arising from war conditions. These were of special importance during the recent World War and some of them are likely to continue for an indefinite period.

The civil functions include those functions of government which have to do with the promotion of friendly relations with foreign powers; those which have to do with the conservation of social order and property; those which have to do with the conservation of natural resources and economic interests of the people; those activities which relate to the promotion and protection of health, the care and education of Indians, and the promotion of public education, educational research, and science.

The nonfunctional expenditures include certain important expenditures which are of a nonorganizational character. These are for the most part expenditures arising out of war, such as interest on and redemption of public debt, investments, refunds, and disbursement of trust funds.

The "refunds" and "investments" are segregated from other departmental expenditures because the former represents the repayment or refund of the whole or part of an amount previously received in payment of indebtedness to the United States, and the latter represents expenditures made in the purchase of notes, bonds, and other choses in action, and loans to foreign Governments, railroads, and the like, which are not expenses of operation but the conversion of cash into other assets.

DESCRIPTION OF BUDGET STATEMENTS.

The Budget statements given herein supply data regarding the income and outgo of the Government, actual and prospective, during the last completed fiscal year, the year in progress, and the ensuing fiscal year. They also give financial data showing (1) the financial condition of the Treasury at the end of the last completed fiscal year (balance sheets), (2) the means by which such condition was reached (operating statements), and (3) the public-debt transactions and the condition at the close of business June 30, 1923.

Statement No. 1 is the master or key statement of the Budget. This statement, it will be seen, shows not merely the balance in the general fund at the end of the last completed year, the estimated surplus that will exist at the end of the year in progress, and the estimated balance at the end of the ensuing fiscal year if the financial proposals contained in the Budget are adopted, but the means by which this balance has been and will be reached. It shows, in a word, the revenues and expenditures of the Government, past and prospective, for these years and exhibits the effect of these amounts in increasing or decreasing the available balance of the general fund.

In considering the showing, past and prospective, it should be noted that payments in respect to the reduction of the public debt figure among the general fund expenditures of the Government. The total amount of debt redemptions included among the general-fund expenditures during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, amounted to $613,674,342.95, of which $402,850,491.10 was required by existing law to be made from ordinary revenue, and the remainder, $210,823,851.85 represents the amount of general fund applied to the redemption of debt in addition to that now required by law to be made from ordinary receipts.

The estimated surplus of $329,639,624 for the fiscal year 1924 is reached after deducting the sum of $511,968,125 for the reduction of public debt now required by existing law to be made from ordinary receipts. Taking this item into account, it shows that the ordinary revenue exceeds all other estimated ordinary expenditures by $841,607,749, or an estimated improvement in the financial condition of the Government of this amount for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924.

The estimated surplus of receipts of $395,681,634 for the fiscal year 1925 has been decreased by the inclusion of $482,277,975 for debt redemptions out of ordinary receipts. Adding these redemptions to the estimated surplus of receipts reported in Statement No. 1 indicate an improvement of the financial condition of the Government of $877,959,609 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925.

A feature of especial interest in this table is the manner in which expenditures have been classified with a view to bringing out the general purposes for which they have been or are to be made. They are thus first classified under four main heads: (1) Ordinary expenditures, (2) Reduction in principal of public debt payable from ordinary receipts, (3) Investment of trust funds, and (4) Interest on the public debt. The ordinary expenditures have been further subdivided to show (a) the general expenditures, by organization units; (b) the operations in special accounts; and (c) the capital outlays for rights and obligations—that is, the purchase of obligations of foreign governments and purchase of farm-loan bonds and loans to railroads.

Statement No. 2 supports Statement No. 1 and supplies the details of the expenditures made for 1923, compared with the estimates for 1924 and the proposals for 1925, by main branches or administrative divisions of the Government.

Statement No. 3 also supports Statement No. 1 and supplies details of the sources of revenue of the Government. It sets out in detail the sources from which the income of the Government was derived in 1923 and is expected to be derived in 1924 and 1925.

Statements 4 and 5 have to do with the operations of the Post Office Department and Postal Service, payable from postal revenues. Beginning with the fiscal year 1923, the departmental expenditures of the Post Office Department at Washington are also financed from the postal receipts.

Statement No. 4 is a summary showing the results of the operations which for all three fiscal years are deficits.

Statement No. 5 gives in detail the expenditures made and to be made out of the postal revenues. The deficiency or surplus in postal revenues, it will be noted, is carried in Statement No. 1 and represents the amount of money which will need to be advanced from the general fund to meet the program recommended in the Budget for the postal establishment if a deficiency or the amount of money which will be paid over to the general fund if a surplus.

Statement No. 6 was prepared in order to bring out clearly the nature of the relationship between receipts and expenditures, the sources from which the former are derived, and the purposes for which the latter were or are to be devoted.

The significance of this statement is that in it expenditures are classified according to character rather than by organization units, as is done in Statements 1 and 2. It will thus be noted that a distinction is made between those expenditures which are for the current operations of the Government, those that are of a nonadministrative character, those for construction work, including national-defense structures, and other expenditures. The importance of the distinctions here made may be seen from the fact that though the expenditure program for 1925 calls for a total expenditure of $3,298,080,444, only $822,219,348 is for the current operations of the Government. The latter sum, it will be seen, is $40,465,706 less than the corresponding item for the year in progress, 1924, and $46,409,908 less than for 1923. Nonadministrative expenses, including such items as interest on the public debt, pensions, etc., call for the expenditure of no less than $1,659,424,176 in 1925.

Statement No. 7 is a detailed statement showing the agencies collecting Government revenue. It supplies the actual revenue items collected in 1923 and estimates of the revenue items to be collected by the several departments and other organization units during the fiscal years 1924 and 1925.

Statement No. 8 summarizes the estimates of appropriations by governmental functions for the fiscal year 1925 and the appropriations made for the fiscal year 1924. This statement sets forth the general end or purposes to be accomplished by the expenditure of the appropriations recommended, compared with the appropriations which have already been made for the fiscal year 1924. The classification given on this statement presents first the general functions of the Government. This corresponds closely to the main organs of the Government established by the Constitution. The general functions have been divided into (a) legislative, (b) judicial, (c) executive, and (d) general administration.

The specific functions are segregated to distinguish the expenditures for military and distinctly war purposes from expenditures for civil services; therefore, the segregation made in this statement divides the specific functions into (a) military functions, (b) civil functions, and (c) nonfunctional operations. This statement not only gives the amount of money recommended for appropriation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, compared with the actual appropriations already made by Congress for the fiscal year 1924, as of November 1, 1923, but it also shows the percentages of the amounts allocated to the different purposes.

This statement will be found interesting and informative, showing as it does the approximate amounts devoted to important Government activities and interests.

It will be found that a total of $110,138,512.75 is carried for general functions, which include the legislative, judicial, executive, and the general administrative operations of the Government which can not be allocated to specific civil functions.

The sum of $1,126,302,675 is provided for military functions, which includes military pensions, retirement pay, annuities and World War allowances, and national defense.

The amount recommended for national defense is divided into two classes: Army, $252,697,441; Navy, $271,-229,872.

The amount provided in the Budget for military pensions and allowances includes $230,000,000 for pensions, $261,065,000 for World War allowances, and $21,037,482 for retirement pay.

The amount recommended for civil functions totals $352,244,121.31. Under this general function $14,639,869 is allowed for foreign relations and protection of American interests abroad; $18,377,761 for general law enforcement, which includes activities having to do with the enforcement of general laws and the administration and enforcement of special acts like the national prohibition act, the narcotic act, and the investigation and prosecution of war contract frauds; $6,566,970 for the control of currency and banking; $12,151,496 for the administration of Indian affairs; $20,095,840.79 for the administration of public domain, which includes those activities of the Government having to do with the care and utilization of public lands and the care and utilization of national forests; $13,132,062 for the promotion and regulation of commerce and industry, which includes the activities of the Tariff Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, the Patent Office, and those activities of the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce having to do with the promotion and regulation of commerce and industry; $57,555,683 for the promotion, regulation, and operation of marine transportation, which includes $30,344,000 for the Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation; $4,263,084 for the promotion and regulation of land transportation; $26,189,091 for the promotion and regulation of agriculture; $1,301,720 for the promotion and regulation of fisheries; $4,893,724 for the promotion of labor interests; $4,083,380 for immigration and naturalization; $16,691,277.80 for promotion of public health; $10,578,280 for promotion of public education; $15,168,323.66 for science and research; $31,036,060 for local government, including the District of Columbia; and $208,050 for civil relief.

For public works, under civil functions, $95,140,699.06 is carried, which includes $55,100,000 for rivers and harbors proper and items of similar character; $15,740,500 for roads; $7,240,160 for Panama Canal; $10,984,069.06 for Reclamation Service; $1,550,000 for railroads in Alaska; and $4,525,970 for other public improvements and Government plant additions.

Under nonfunctional appropriations is carried a total of $1,429,384,637, which includes $33,858,000 for refunds, losses, contingencies, and miscellaneous; $482,277,975 for public-debt retirements payable from ordinary receipts; $890,000,000 for interest on the public debt; and $23,248,662 for disbursement of trust funds.

Statement No. 8A summarizes the estimates of appropriations by character and objects of expenditures for the fiscal year 1925 and the appropriations made for the fiscal year 1924. It makes a distinction between those appropriations already made and herein recommended for (a) current expenses, (b) fixed charges, (c) acquisition of property, (d) payment of debt, and (e) capital outlays for rights and obligations.

Statement No. 9 gives similar data to that presented by Statement No. 8. It is a summary of expenditures classified by governmental functions for the fiscal year 1925 compared with prior years. It compares the expenditures of the Government by functions from 1915 to 1925, inclusive. It not only gives the amount of money spent but that which it is estimated will be spent during the current fiscal year and the ensuing fiscal year. It also furnishes the percentages allocated to the different functions of the Government. The expenditures given for all years, except for the fiscal years 1924 and 1925, are on the basis of warrants issued and charged to appropriation accounts—that is, warrants issued authorizing withdrawal of cash from the Treasury as reported by the Secretary of the Treasury in the "Combined statement of receipts and disbursements, balances, etc., of the United States."

Statement No. 10 gives the appropriations recommended and appropriations made by Congress during the fiscal year 1924, compared with the fiscal year 1923, classified by organization units, including those appropriations made by Congress for which no estimates were submitted by the Chief Executive.

Statement No. 11 summarizes the estimates of appropriations for the fiscal year 1925 and appropriations for 1924. It shows the amounts and percentages applied to current operations of the Government by Government departments and offices.

Statement No. 12 gives the amount of annual, permanent, or other appropriations, including balances of appropriations for prior fiscal years, available for expenditure during the fiscal year in progress, 1924, as of November 1, 1923. This statement shows the total amount available for expenditure during the fiscal year 1924.

Statement No. 13 is a consolidated current balance sheet—that is, it consolidates the general fund, which includes all other expendable funds, with the loan funds.

Statement No. 14 is a consolidated statement of operations showing how the condition reported in Statement No. 13 was reached.

Statement No. 15 is a current balance sheet for the general fund giving the financial condition of that fund at the close of business on June 30, 1923, and Statement No. 16 is a statement of operations of the general fund showing how the condition reported in the general-fund balance sheet was reached.

Statement No. 17 is a statement of operations of the public debt (loan) funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923. It shows the receipts and expenditures of the loan funds for that year.

Statement No. 18 is a summary statement of outstanding debt at the close of business June 30, 1923, compared with June 30, 1922, and June 30, 1916, on the basis of revised figures reported in the "Statement of the public debt of the United States." It shows that the gross outstanding debt on June 30, 1916, was but $1,225,145,567.53 and that the gross debt as of June 30, 1922, was $22,964,079,190.58, while the gross debt outstanding on June 30, 1923, was $22,349,687,757.84. It will be noted that the gross debt was reduced over $600,000,000 in the fiscal year 1923.

Statement No. 19 is a detailed statement of outstanding debt at the close of business June 30, 1923, compared with June 30, 1922, and June 30, 1916. It supports Statement No. 18.

Statements Nos. 20, 21, and 22 report information regarding the sinking-fund operations for the fiscal year 1923 and the estimated operations for the fiscal years 1924 and 1925.

Statement No. 23 supplies information as to the proposed borrowings from the public for redemptions and purchases of public-debt issues during the fiscal year 1925, compared with those expected to be made in 1924 and the actual borrowings and redemptions which were made during the fiscal year 1923, exclusive of those certificates of indebtedness which are issued and redeemed within the same fiscal year.

Statement No. 24 is a summary and comparison of the estimates of appropriations for the fiscal year 1925 with the estimates of expenditures for 1924 for the personnel of the executive departments and establishments in the District of Columbia, classified under the act of March 4, 1923. This statement shows the number of employees and total compensation for each year and the increase for 1925 over the rates of total compensation for 1924.

The gross figures given on the Treasury Daily Statement of June 30, 1923, are, receipts $4,007,135,480.56, and expenditures, $3,697,478,020.26. A final comparison, however, is reported on this Daily Statement, in which the net figures—that is, those given in Budget Statement No. 1—are used. (See Budget Statement No. 14.)

NOTE.—Estimated figures for 1925 in Budget Statement No. 1, above, are based on existing revenue laws. If the revenue proposals contained in the Budget should be adopted, an annual reduction in revenue of more than $300,000,000 would result.

The principal changes are increases from $128,810 to $160,380 in basic salaries, office of the Public Printer, on account of reclassification; from $232,960 to $314,960 in basic salaries, office of the Superintendent of Documents, on account of reclassification; and $25,000 for emergency and overtime work in making distribution of Government publications; and decreases by the elimination of the appropriation "Congressional Record Index," $9,100, the expenses of which will be paid from the appropriation "Public printing and binding"; and by elimination of the appropriation "Increase of compensation," $960,000.

Appropriation for 1924	$281,200
Budget estimate for 1925	225,000

The principal difference between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 is a decrease from $262,025 to $207,400 for personal services, the number of employees being reduced from 125 to 102.

It is believed that by the end of the current fiscal year (1924) the office will be in a position to avoid any embarrassment from the curtailment of its appropriations.

AMERICAN BATTLE MONUMENTS COMMISSION.

Budget estimate for 1925	$554,280

This commission was created by the act approved March 4, 1923, entitled "An act for the creation of an American Battle Monuments Commission to erect suitable memorials commemorating the services of the American soldier in Europe, and for other purposes."

BUREAU OF EFFICIENCY.

Budget estimate for 1925	156,150

The Budget estimate of $156,150, while higher than the 1924 appropriation, provides for no additional personnel, the increase being necessary to take care of increases in salaries under reclassification.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

Appropriation for 1924	$990,895
Budget estimate for 1925	949,116

The Budget estimate for personnel for 1925, including reclassification of the departmental service, is $45,240 less than the 1924 appropriation therefor including increase of compensation. This reduction is in part made possible by the consolidation of the former statutory salaries of the commission with the appropriation for temporary employees, and in part by reason of the proposed lump-sum appropriation for 1925. Small decreases in miscellaneous, contingent, and travel expenses amount to $3,540. The Budget estimate provides for an increase of $7,001 for rent, which will be required if the commission remains in its present location.

COMMISSION OF FINE ARTS.

Appropriation for 1924	$6,480
Budget estimate for 1925	5,350

The amount estimated does not provide for the publication of an elaborate report of the commission.

EMPLOYEES' COMPENSATION COMMISSION.

Appropriation for 1924	$2,450,500
Budget estimate for 1925	2,656,260

The Budget estimate provides for one additional employee, "Salaries, Employees' Compensation Commission," and for a small number of increases in salaries due to reclassification.

Budget estimate for 1925	6,380,000

The act providing for vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise, which became effective June 2, 1920, provided for appropriations for four years only.

The Budget estimate includes the automatic yearly increases amounting to $1,062,000 over the appropriation for 1924, as provided for in the organic act.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

Appropriation for 1924	$45,926.74
Budget estimate for 1925	13,301.79

The organic act of June 10, 1920, provided an appropriation of $100,000, available until expended. On July 1, 1923, there was an unexpended balance in this appropriation of $40,000. Since it is estimated that the expenditures for 1924 will not exceed the $40,000 appropriated for that year, the unexpended balance of the continuing appropriation, amounting to $40,000 on June 30, 1923, will still be available for the fiscal year 1925.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

Appropriation for 1924	$1,010,000

HOUSING CORPORATION.

Appropriation for 1924	$920,450
Budget estimate for 1925	808,100

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925, amounting to a reduction of $112,350, are a decrease in the amount for personal services from $504,210 to $436,110, a large part of which is due to the reduction of 68 employees in the force employed at the Government Hotels; and decreases in amounts for provisions for the Government Hotels from $255,000 to $230,000, and in miscellaneous items from $161,240 to $141,990.

NATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR AERONAUTICS.

Budget estimate for 1925	440,000

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are an increase from $192,880 to $260,275 for personal services, involving an increase from 77 to 123 employees in the field service; and increases from $18,300 to $25,900 for supplies, from $6,360 to $20,000 for repairs and alterations, from $17,200 to $70,200 for equipment, and from $24,000 to $30,000 for special investigations.

Appropriation for 1924	$340,000
Budget estimate for 1925	322,200

SHIPPING BOARD AND EMERGENCY FLEET CORPORATION.

Appropriation for 1924	$50,411,500
Budget estimate for 1925	30,344,000

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are a decrease from $406,500 to $339,000 in salaries and expenses of the Shipping Board, involving a reduction from 113 to 96 in the number of employees and small reductions in several expense items; a decrease from $50,000,000 to $30,000,000 for the "Emergency shipping fund" with authority to use not in excess of $6,000,000 of the total proceeds of sales for expenses of liquidation and tie-up connected therewith, thereby providing an availability of $36,000,000.

During the fiscal year 1923 the gross deficit of expenses over amounts earned was $50,183,386.05, but this included extraordinary obligations of $18,292,821.79 which, it is now anticipated, will not be incurred during the current fiscal year.

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925, amounting to a net increase of $53,407.66, are an increase due to reclassification of about $59,000 over present basic salaries and bonus, and a decrease from $77,400 to $70,000 for printing and binding.

Budget estimate for 1925	2,306,215

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are a decrease from $1,711,278 to $1,636,215 for personnel, involving a reduction in the number of employees from 1,680 to 1,551 which in part is made possible by the consolidation into one appropriation for personnel 14 appropriations for separate buildings and in part by reason of more efficient organization, and a decrease from $698,846 to $667,250 for fuel, lights, etc.

TARIFF COMMISSION.

Budget estimate for 1925	681,980

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are an increase from $603,095 to $629,900 for personal services, the increase providing only for the additional employees who are being taken on during 1924; and decreases from $12,000 to $7,670 for supplies, from $63,600 to $28,810 for travel expenses, from $14,500 to $3,000 for furniture and equipment, and from $20,000 to $10,000 for printing and binding, and the elimination in 1925 of $25,000 for rent.

UNITED STATES GEOGRAPHIC BOARD.

Appropriation for 1924	$2,000
Budget estimate for 1925	1,000

This appropriation is for printing and binding only.

UNITED STATES VETERANS' BUREAU.

Appropriation for 1924	$431,514,053
Budget estimate for 1925	349,065,000

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are decreases from $50,780,123 to $46,790,000 for salaries and expenses, involving a net reduction from 28,855 to 24,200 in the number of employees in the field service; from $200,000 to $164,966 for telegraph and telephone service, from $2,280,000 to $1,724,195 for travel expenses, from $251,000 to $49,183 for transportation of things, from $1,509,900 to $1,370,327 for rents, from $300,000 to $229,733 for equipment; a decrease from $300,000 to $275,000 for printing and binding, on account of the supply of printed matter on hand and the proposed reduction in size of the annual report for 1924; and a decrease from $118,450,000 to $83,000,000 for military and naval compensation.

Amounts heretofore appropriated for military and naval compensation continue available until expended. During the fiscal year 1923, $125,671,861.85 was disbursed, leaving an unexpended balance June 30, 1923, of $71,913,400.04. There was appropriated for 1924, $118,450,000, thereby making available $190,363,400.04 for the fiscal year 1924. Since it is anticipated that many of the 70,000 veterans now undergoing vocational rehabilitation training, who are paid from the appropriation for that purpose, will return to a compensation status during the fiscal years 1924 and 1925, it is estimated that compensation payments during 1924 will amount to $132,000,000, leaving an unexpended balance on June 30 of $58,363,400. This balance with the Budget estimate of $83,000,000 will provide $141,363,400 for the fiscal year 1925.

A decrease from $48,683,710 to $42,000,000 for medical and hospital services: This decrease is due to discontinuing as rapidly as possible the medical and dental examination and treatment of patients on a fee basis, and adopting the less expensive policy wherever practicable of making examinations and administering treatment on a salary basis or in Government-owned dispensaries, clinics, or hospitals. There will be a reduction in the amount required for rentals in the fiscal year 1925, and the amount estimated for repairs and alterations in 1925 to provide hospital facilities is $3,000,000 less than the amount appropriated for 1924. The amount estimated contemplates savings to be effected by the closing of four hospitals at the end of the fiscal year 1924; provides additional funds required to operate three new hospitals opened, and five yet to be opened, in the current fiscal year; five new hospitals to be opened in the fiscal year 1925; operation at increased capacity of one hospital to be enlarged in the present fiscal year and five to be enlarged in the fiscal year 1925. Hospital personnel is paid from the appropriation "Salaries and expenses."

A decrease from $120,743,000 to $89,000,000 for vocational rehabilitation: 70,000 veterans are now in training. The 1925 estimate is predicated upon a monthly average of 52,984 in training, the number estimated by the Veterans' Bureau, entailing decreased expenditures of $23,500,000 for maintenance allowance for trainees and dependents, $864,000 for supplies and materials, $227,000 for rentals, $5,600,000 for tuition, and $602,000 for education and recreational equipment.

A decrease from $90,000,000 to $88,000,000 for military and naval insurance: In the fiscal year 1923 disbursements from this appropriation aggregated $99,464,626.65, and premium increments totaled $16,141,830. The unexpended balance at the close of the fiscal year 1923, available for the fiscal year 1924, was $13,149,506.88. This balance, with $90,000,000 appropriated in the act for 1924 and $12,000,000 estimated premium increment in 1924, totals $115,149,506.88 available for the fiscal year 1924. The estimated expenditure in the fiscal year 1924 is $103,000,000, with an unexpended balance on June 30, 1924, of $12,000,000 available for the fiscal year 1925. This balance, with $8,000,000 estimated premium increment in 1925 and the Budget estimate of $88,000,000, aggregates an availability of $108,000,000 to meet estimated disbursements in the fiscal year 1925.

In order to make the figures for 1924 comparable with those for 1925, there has been added to the amounts appropriated for 1924 the increase of compensation paid to employees whose names appear on the pay rolls of the various items involved. The decrease in the amount estimated for the construction of rural post roads was due to the fact that road building in some of the States is not proceeding as rapidly as in others; therefore the amount estimated plus the present available unexpended balance of prior appropriations will meet the Department's immediate need in 1925.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Budget estimate for 1925	278,499,054

In addition to the appropriation for 1924 the expenditure of $35,000,000 was authorized from accumulated balances in the naval supply account fund and the clothing and small stores fund, making a total availability of $332,097,250 for the fiscal year 1924, and similarly for 1925 an expenditure of $22,500,000 from the naval supply account fund is estimated, which would make a total availability of $300,999,054 for 1925.

The amount estimated for the Navy will provide for the present enlisted personnel of 86,000 men; will maintain approximately the same number of ships in commission as for the fiscal year 1924, but more combatant ships and less auxiliaries; will increase the steaming radius of combatant ships from 16,200 miles (estimated for 1924) to 22,200 miles; will provide for the training of 1,968 officers and 6,480 enlisted men of the Naval Reserve Force, as against 1,640 officers and 5,300 men for 1924, an increase of 20 per cent; will provide for continuing at a normal rate of speed the construction of all new ships now under way; will provide for laying down three of the six fleet submarines authorized; and will make provision for an increase in public works projects and a slight increase in maintenance appropriations to meet the increase in salaries and wages.

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget recommendation for 1925 are decreases: From $550,000 to $525,000 for printing and binding; from $2,730,000 to $2,700,000 for pay, miscellaneous, due to plans of the department for reducing the number of passenger-carrying ships; from $4,000,000 to $3,600,000 for transportation and recruiting, due to changes in the law regarding travel allowances of discharged men and changes in administrative methods; from $555,000 to $300,000 for recreation for enlisted men, due to changes in conditions and the discontinuance of short-term enlistments; from $9,000,000 to $8,097,000 for ordnance and ordnance stores, due to the fact that the completing of the battleship Maryland during 1924 at an expense of $903,000 was paid from this appropriation; from $121,446,892 to $117,000,000 for pay of the Navy, due to the fact that there will be a large unexpended balance of this appropriation for 1924 and the number of enlisted men will be the same during 1925; from $16,424,000 to $9,590,000 for provisions, due to a balance carried over from the previous year; from $3,250,000 to $2,800,000 for freight, Supplies and Accounts, due to a change of plans by the department as to the class of ships to be kept in commission; from $16,000,000 to $14,500,000 for fuel and transportation, providing for an average steaming radius of 22,200 miles for combatant ships; from $2,123,798 to $1,888,654 for the Naval Academy, due largely to the reduction in the number of civilian professors who are to be replaced by commissioned instructors; and from $54,097,000 to $30,000,000 for vessels under construction, due to the fact that $30,000,000 will be sufficient to carry on the work at a normal rate of speed on all such vessels during 1925 and that the remaining amount required to complete this program can be deferred to the following year; and increases: From $3,600,000 to $4,000,000 for the Naval Reserve Force, which provides for a 20 per cent increase in the number; from $14,440,000 to $15,010,000 for engineering; from $15,565,000 to $15,675,000 for construction and repair of vessels; from $450,000 to $1,200,000 for torpedoes and appliances, to provide for replacement of torpedoes lost during the fiscal year 1923; from $6,865,000 to $7,100,000 for maintenance, Supplies and Accounts; from $5,650,000 to $6,250,000 for maintenance of yards and docks; from $14,647,174 to $15,000,000 for aviation; from $8,604,943 to $9,000,000 for maintenance, Marine Corps, due largely to the department's request that hereafter the subsistence of marines afloat be paid from Marine Corps appropriations instead of from provisions for the Navy, as heretofore; and from $2,866,500 to $4,000,000 for public works, providing for 61 projects which are considered to be the most important.

The appropriation for 1924 for expenses of passport control is $259,500. Since this appropriation was initiated by reason of the World War and can no longer be classed as an emergency, the Budget estimates for 1925 for "Allowance for clerks at United States consulates" and "Contingent expenses, United States consulates," have been made to absorb estimated expenditures of $150,000 and $30,000, respectively, which heretofore have been paid from the appropriation for expenses of passport control, thereby effecting a net reduction of $79,500.

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are decreases: From $1,625,000 to $1,550,000 for allowance for clerks at United States consulates; from $1,060,200 to $980,000 for contingent expenses, United States consulates; from $300,000 to $275,000 for transportation of diplomatic and consular officers; from $150,000 to $125,000 for post allowances to diplomatic and consular officers; from $222,300 to $182,140 for the Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany; and from $100,000 to $20,000 for miscellaneous trust funds.

The personnel of 590 employees for the department, as distinguished from the foreign intercourse service, is provided for in 1924 by three appropriations, viz: Salaries, $605,740; additional employees, $260,000; and increase of compensation, $130,160, making a total compensation of $995,900. The Budget estimate includes a single appropriation of $1,069,600 for the same number of employees, the increase being due to classification.

The Budget estimate includes $5,000,000 for the payment to Colombia, which is the same as was included in the appropriation for 1924.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

	War Department proper.	Panama Canal.	National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.	Total.
Budget estimate for 1925	322,238,731	7,240,160	6,962,201	336,441,092

The amount estimated for the maintenance and operation of the Army will provide for a regular force of 12,000 officers and a maximum of 125,000 enlisted men, exclusive of the Philippine Scouts, which is the force now authorized by Congress. The average enlisted strength provided for throughout the year is 118,750, which is the strength the military authorities expect to be able to maintain in view of existing and anticipated conditions of recruitment. It will also provide for the training of 12,000 reserve officers and 770 reserve enlisted men for a period of 15 days and 615 reserve officers for a period of more than 15 days, as against a total of 7,000 reserve officers and 225 reserve enlisted men for 15 days and 519 reserve officers for a period of more than 15 days during the current fiscal year; for the attendance of 25,800 men at citizens' military training camps as against 28,127 during the current year; for a total enrollment of 115,000 students in Reserve Officers' Training Corps units; and will enable the Militia Bureau to increase the strength of the National Guard to 200,000 officers and men and to maintain an average strength throughout the year of 190,000 as against an expected average strength of 180,000 during the current fiscal year.

The Budget estimate will also provide for essentials connected with the maintenance and operation of active military posts, camps, and stations, and, in addition, allows $1,166,850 for new construction; for necessary Army transportation, including the operation of the Army Transport Service; for purchase of 5,941 horses and mules for the Army to replace others incapacitated by old age; for the proper upkeep of existing fortifications and accessories; and for the carrying forward of the general plan for the protection of the Panama Canal and the Hawaiian Islands, with increased facilities for the development and manufacture of airplane bombs, antiaircraft guns, and ammunition.

For the Air Service $12,435,000 is estimated, which is $9,000 more than the appropriation for 1924, and, in addition, estimate is made for the reappropriation of a $1,000,000 balance remaining unexpended from the appropriation for the fiscal year 1922.

For the United States Military Academy funds are provided for essentials connected with its maintenance and operation and, in addition, provision is made for the preparation of plans and specifications for a new cadet mess hall, dormitories, cadet store, and drawing academy.

Funds recommended will care for the various regular nonmilitary activities of the War Department, such as national cemeteries, national military parks, national monuments and memorials, and the Alaskan cable system, including the completion of the project for renewing the worn-out portions of the latter.

For rivers and harbors, $37,000,000 is estimated for maintenance and improvement; also an additional $5,683,321 will be available from permanent specific and permanent indefinite appropriations for maintenance work on rivers and harbors, the operation and care of canals, removal of obstructions, etc., and a still further amount (estimated at $3,000,000) to be contributed by local interests.

For continuing the construction of Dam No. 2 at Muscle Shoals an appropriation of $7,000,000 is estimated, with a contract authorization of $5,000,000 additional, and for the work of flood control on the Mississippi River an appropriation of $10,000,000 is estimated.

The increase for 1925 over 1924 is due to provision of funds for construction of a new power plant at Miraflores, which was authorized by the act of March 2, 1923.

In the fiscal year 1924 and prior years the cost of hospitalizing Veterans' Bureau patients in the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers has been defrayed from Veterans' Bureau appropriations fund allotted to the home. The appropriation act of March 2, 1923, for the War Department for the fiscal year 1924 provides that—

> For the fiscal year 1925 and annually thereafter moneys allotted to the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers by the Veterans' Bureau for support, maintenance, and care of World War veterans shall not be used to augment or reimburse the appropriations made for the support of National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, but shall be covered into the surplus fund of the Treasury, and the Budget for the fiscal year 1925 and thereafter shall contain itemized estimates covering the entire cost of the operation and maintenance of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, including the cost of maintenance, support, and care of beneficiaries of the United States Veterans' Bureau in such homes.

The amount estimated for 1925 in excess of the appropriation for 1924 is in compliance with the above provision of law.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Budget estimate for 1925	26,879,812

The principal differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the Budget estimate for 1925 are increases: From $1,836,800 to $2,086,080 for improvements and repairs of streets, including street construction; from $822,000 to $1,032,000 for sewers, in order to keep pace with the growth of the city; from $1,240,000 to $1,405,000 for street cleaning, which includes snow removal and disposal of garbage, the increase being needed to keep pace with demands; from $602,000 to $686,000 for the electrical department; from $6,214,270 to $6,295,700 for the operation of public schools, due to the increased school attendance and the maintenance of vacation and night schools; from $1,330,000 to $1,687,500 for public school buildings and grounds, the increase being due primarily to the completion of authorized projects; from $1,841,000 to $1,905,000 for the police department, which makes provision for a slight increase in force and automatic promotions; from $1,390,000 to $1,549,000 for the fire department, which provides for the construction of one drill tower, the purchase of new hose to replace wornout hose, three motor-driven engines, one aerial truck, and sites and construction of two new engine houses; from $113,000 to $123,000 for the Tuberculosis Hospital, which provides for proceeding with the completion of projects already begun; from $214,820 to $322,820 for Gallinger Hospital, which provides for classification for nurses, additional equipment and maintenance. The new projects for which provision is made in the Budget estimate are $50,000 to complete a portion of Anacostia Park; $600,000 for a site and new Junior High School in the northeast section; $125,000 for an athletic field at Western High School; $50,000 for a site for school at Fifth and Buchanan Streets NW.; $20,000 for a site for school at Third and Rittenhouse Streets NW.; $7,500 for addition to the site of the Burville School; $56,000 for a site and engine house in the Conduit Road section; and $62,000 for a site and engine house in the northeast section. The Budget estimate also includes $300,000 for the retirement of District of Columbia bonds maturing August 1, 1924; no amount for this purpose was included in the appropriation for the fiscal year 1924.

INTEREST ON THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Appropriation for 1924	$940,000,000
Budget estimate for 1925	890,000,000

The reduction of the estimate for 1925 under the appropriation for 1924 is due to reduction of the outstanding principal of the public debt.

REDEMPTION OF THE PUBLIC DEBT REQUIRED TO BE MADE FROM ORDINARY RECEIPTS.

Appropriation for 1924	$511,968,125
Budget estimate for 1925	482,277,975

The differences between the appropriation for 1924 and the estimate for 1925 are an increase from $297,144,300 to $310,000,000 in the cumulative sinking fund due to the requirements of law that the appropriation shall be increased each fiscal year by the amount of interest which would have been payable during that year on the debt redeemed through the operation of the sinking fund during such year; and decreases from $10,000,000 to $6,000,000 for the redemption of bonds and notes from estate taxes, and from $60,899,500 to $23,045,000 in the repayment of the principal of the obligations of foreign governments due to repayments during 1924 of $30,500,000 deemed to have been given by the British Government for purchases of silver bullion under the Pittman Act, and of about $7,000,000 from Cuba which completed the repayments of those obligations.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

Budget estimate for 1925	613,093,183.50

The appropriation for the Post Office Department and Postal Service for the fiscal year 1924 amounted to approximately $585,222,000, but this sum does not correctly represent the probable cost of the service in that year. It was early apparent that the requirements of the service would demand additional funds if the mails were to be handled efficiently and expeditiously, and at the present time close reckoning indicates that supplemental estimates for 1924 in excess of $12,000,000 will be presented to the Congress at the forthcoming session. On this basis $597,250,000 is the amount which should be used in comparing 1924 appropriations with the 1925 estimates.

The estimates of expenditures for 1925, amounting to $613,093,000, represent an approximate increase of $16,000,000 over the probable cost of the service for 1924, and involve a probable deficiency in postal revenues of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000.

The usual increases in the volume of mail to be handled during the fiscal year 1925 and the expansion in postal facilities necessitate larger expenditures in practically all postal activities. The principal increases in the estimates for 1925 as compared with appropriations for 1924 are $191,594 for salaries of officers and employees of the Post Office Department in Washington, of which $142,614 represents the increase due to classification, the remainder involving new positions and transfers of personnel from field service appropriations; $4,884,500 for allowances for clerks and other employees in first and second class offices; $387,900 for watchmen, messengers, and laborers; from $13,276,000 to $14,416,600 for rent, light, and fuel; an increase of $3,323,000 for allowances for city-delivery carriers; from $45,801,000 to $47,475,000 for salaries, Railway Mail Service; from $930,000 to $1,300,000 for miscellaneous expenses, Railway Mail Service; an increase of $1,410,766 for railroad transportation and mail messenger service; $350,000 for foreign mail transportation; $635,000 for manufacture of stamps, stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, and postal cards; from $1,222,000 to $1,303,500 for post-office equipment and supplies; and from $86,900,000 to $88,250,000 for Rural Delivery Service.

The principal decreases are from $46,695,000 to $46,282,900 for compensation of postmasters, a decrease of $40,000 for separation of mails at third and fourth class post offices, and a decrease of $500,000 for indemnities on domestic mail.

[5] For use of Government Printing Office.
[6] For departments, bureaus, and Congress.

NOTE.—If the salaries as approved by the Personnel Classification Board are made effective, it is proposed to increase the salaries of several supervisory positions in the skilled trades which are exempt from the operation of the classification act in order to equalize their pay with those salaries set by the classification act. The increases submitted herewith are for that purpose.

Wages of printers, pressmen, and bookbinders in the Government Printing Office are set by law, and the Public Printer has no authority to change them unless Congress acts either by fixing a new rate or authorizing the Public Printer to determine the wages to be paid printers, pressmen, and bookbinders the same as he now does for other skilled-trade employees and laborers in the Government Printing Office. The Public Printer is of the opinion that the wages of the skilled trades and of the skilled and unskilled laborers should be open to adjustment from time to time to meet changing conditions and to insure the employment at all times of an adequate number of properly skilled workmen. In accordance with the law fixing the rate of pay for printers, pressmen, and bookbinders at 75 cents per hour, and in compliance with the spirit of section 6, paragraph 1, of the classification act, which provides that in computing existing compensation the bonus shall be included, the estimate of 85 cents per hour is submitted for the above trades, it being assumed that Congress intends the basic pay of all employees, whether included in the classification act or not, shall be computed in the same manner. This estimate is not intended as a recommendation that the existing rate is an adequate or inadequate wage under present conditions, but is submitted in compliance with law for Congress to determine whether it will continue to fix the pay of less than 50 per cent of the employees of the Government Printing Office or will authorize some other agency of the Government to readjust their wages the same as the Public Printer has done many years for the majority of the employees.

PERMANENT SPECIFIC APPROPRIATION.

Cooperative Agricultural Extension Work—

For the purpose of paying the expenses of cooperative agricultural extension work and the necessary printing and distributing of information in connection with same, there is permanently appropriated $480,000 for each year, $10,000 of which is paid annually to each State which has by action of its legislature assented to the provisions of the act. There was also appropriated an additional sum of $600,000 for the fiscal year following that in which the foregoing appropriation first became available, and for each year thereafter for seven years a sum exceeding by $500,000 the sum appropriated for each preceding year, and for each year thereafter there is permanently appropriated the sum of $4,100,000 in addition to the sum of $480,000. The additional sums are allotted annually to each State by the Secretary of Agriculture and paid in the proportion which the rural population of each State bears to the total rural population of all the States as determined by the next preceding Federal census, but no payment out of the additional appropriations can be made in any year to any State until an equal sum has been appropriated for that year by the legislature of such State, or provided by State, county, college, local authority, or individual contributions from within the State, for the maintenance of cooperative agricultural extension work (act May 8, 1914, vol. 38, p. 373, sec. 3) 4,580,000.00 4,580,000.00
